Slava Isusu Khrystu!

There was once a man who had four sons. He wanted his sons to learn not to judge things too quickly and so he sent them each on a quest, to go and look at a pear tree that was a great distance away.

The first son went in the winter, the second in the spring, the third in the summer and the youngest in the fall. When they had all gone and returned he called them together to describe what they had seen. The first son said that the tree was ugly, bent and twisted. The second son said that it was covered with green buds and full of promise. The third son disagreed; he said it was laden with blossom that smelled so sweet and looked so very beautiful that it was the most graceful thing he has ever seen. The last son disagreed with all of them; he said it was ripe and drooping with fruit, full of life and fulfillment.

The man then explained to his sons that they were all right, because they had each seen only one season in the tree's life. He told them that you cannot judge a tree or a person by only one season. He told them that the essence of who they are and the pleasure, joy and love that come from that life can only be measured at the end, when all the seasons are done.

If you give up when it's winter, you will miss the promise of your spring, the beauty of your summer and the fulfillment of your fall. Do not let the pain of one season destroy the joy of all the rest. Do not judge life by one difficult season. Persevere through the difficult patches and better times are sure to come

Each of us, sooner or later, is one of the four sons. We pass judgment on what we see and accept this as the overall truth without stopping to think that we have only seen a small part of the whole picture.

We do this so very often. If I, your pastor, were to put on some old dirty clothes, an old wrinkled hat and then come into church, many might turn their noses at me. They might feel that they are better than I and would not want their children sitting next to me. And yet I would still be the same person to whom you show much respect as I walk in dressed in the black clothes that you are often see on me. Yes, we all tend to base our prejudice on outward appearance and oh, how truly unfair this can be!

Perhaps if we could see ourselves in the role of the "pear tree" rather than one of the sons, we would possess a much better understanding of life. Perhaps we should ask ourselves a few very basic questions... "How would WE want to be judged? Would WE want to be judged by how one person sees us at a given moment in time? Or would WE want to be judged by the mistakes that we have made throughout our lives?"... No matter who we are, we all deserve to be seen through all of the seasons of our lifetime!

May our "roles" of both the "sons" and the "tree" lead us to embrace generosity, compassion and kindness – especially as we spiritually prepare for the celebration of Our Lord's Resurrection!
